How to activate:14-4-02 — Mark DeYoung MÖLNDORF — Although the entire winter season has been significant for the United States Ski Team, it was an opportunity for several of the team's young skiers to take advantage of, including 22-year-old Mark DeYoung, who had an excellent day at the snowboard world championships in Tignes, France. The Michigan native, who won the bronze medal in the big air contest on Tuesday morning, has been riding the switch on the halfpipe and has been fairly consistent in the past month, although still looking for improvement in his consistency. DeYoung began the slopestyle contest on the second heat of the day. The final heat was due to be held later, but a strong blizzard quickly buried the ski areas on the slopes that were going to be used for 6d1f23a050
